

Lesson 1

1. Psychology is the study of human body.
2. Plato was a psychologist
3. Psychology and Philosophy are two different disciplines
4. Psychology uses observation, measurement and analysis
5. Psychology does not use scientific methods
6. Structuralism used trained introspection
7. Structuralism was something between philosophy and psychology
8. Science uses objective standardized procedures
9. Philosophy uses controlled laboratory experiments
10. The behaviourists believe that subconscious forces are the underlying causes of human behaviour.